Please note that your dependants (Spouse, Children and dependant Parents) can be covered upto the coverage specified for you (also mentioned below). The cover limit for the employee is fixed based on the grade and the company pays the premium for the same. The premium payable towards the dependants will have to be borne by the employee and the same would be deducted from the Salary in April / May 2007.

We have enclosed the premium schedule for your reference and does not include the service tax. Please note that these are standard premium schedule and there would be variation based on the market rates.

In the absence of any response from you, the current coverage would continue. If the coverage and the details are correct and if there is no change required, there is no need to confirm.

For any clarifications, please contact Mahabal or me.