In MS formats, the font height of a space character is not supposed to affect either line height or line spacing. This was fixed in 25.2, but not for the line-spacing of the last line…

This easily fits on a single page.