This document is trying to include links of various sorts and kinds that might challenge normal document creation patterns for textbox links. Some boxes were cut and pasted. They were not linked in the order they were created etc. It started as a word 2013 document, then edited in Word 2003 with docx extensions.

More conventionally, it is just normal text that flows from one box to another.