This document shows the usage of endnote[1].

Footnotes and endnotes are used in printed documents to explain, comment on, or provide references for text in a document. You might use footnotes for detailed comments and endnotes for citation of sources.

NOTE If you want to create a bibliography, you can find commands for creating and managing sources and citations on the References tab in the Citations & Bibliography group.

In this document, the endnote is set to locate at end of document rather than end of section and the numbering for endnote will be continuous. Both these two setting are by default in Word2007.

[1] Endnote often used for citation of sources. For example, here I can list the hyperlink of related help content.