

The timing of this report coincides with widespread media coverage that concentration of CO₂ in the atmosphere has passed the 400 parts per million mark at the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration observatory on